Diversity in community

EU Values

- Human dignity
- Freedom
- Democracy
- Equality
- Rule of law
- Human rights

Human dignity

Human dignity is inviolable. It must be respected, protected and constitutes the real basis of fundamental rights.

Freedom

Freedom of movement gives citizens the right to move and reside freely within the Union. Individual freedoms such as respect for private life, freedom of thought, religion, assembly, expression and information are protected by the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights.

Democracy

The functioning of the EU is founded on representative democracy. A European citizen automatically enjoys political rights. Every adult EU citizen has the right to stand as a candidate and to vote in elections to the European Parliament. EU citizens have the right to stand as a candidate and to vote in their country of residence, or in their country of origin.

Equality

Equality is about equal rights for all citizens before the law. The principle of equality between women and men underpins all European policies and is the basis for European integration. It applies in all areas. The principle of equal pay for equal work became part of the Treaty of Rome in 1957.

Rule of law

The EU is based on the rule of law. Everything the EU does is founded on treaties, voluntarily and democratically agreed by its EU countries. Law and justice are upheld by an independent judiciary. The EU countries gave final jurisdiction to the European Court of Justice — its judgments have to be respected by all.

Human rights

Human rights are protected by the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights. These cover the right to be free from discrimination on the basis of sex, racial or ethnic origin, religion or belief, disability, age or sexual orientation, the right to the protection of your personal data, and the right to get access to justice.

Our achievements

- Development of digital skills;
- Intergration of information and media literacy in educational process by creating new subjects and modules with interactive methodologies and the latest online tools;
- Resources;
- Consolidation university and community in the battle against rumours and fakes

Some definitions:

- Rumours are statements about individuals, groups or events that spread from one person to another without a determination of their veracity. A rumour is considered credible not because there is direct evidence to support it but because many people believe it.
- Stereotypes consist in attributing a number of simplified and standardised characteristics (ways of being and behaving) to all those who share a particular feature (same sex, nationality, religion, profession, etc.).
- Prejudices derive from negative stereotypes: I presume how the "other" is and, based on this, I presume "what he is able to do to me" to the extent that I adopt a "preventive" attitude of hostility, suspicion or rejection that determines my attitude and behaviour towards the "other." Unlike stereotypes, a prejudice is a belief based on emotions and feelings that have been transmitted to us within our close relationships (family, friends, etc.).
- Stereotypes, rumours and prejudices may lead to discrimination, injustice and eventually social violence

Key skills within intercultural competence

- To learn to differ observations and facts from our personal interpretations
- To stop producing judgements about people's behavior until you get to know their culture or identity better
- To be aware that you cannot know all non-verbal signals and behavior peculiarities of other culture or identity representatives
- To be tolerant if someone's behavior does not correspond to your expectations because of different cultural or identity background

Інтеркультурна компетентність це складний набір знань, умінь та навичок, що дозволяють виконувати належну та ефективну роботу під час взаємодії з людьми різного мовного та культурного походження.
